Electronic Signatures – Privacy statement

Bayer AG (hereinafter “us” or “we”) wishes to inform you about processing of your personal data in the context of Electronic Signatures. Your personal data will be processed when you use the technical platform DocuSign Digital Transaction Management Platform (“DocuSign Website”) and as part of electronically signing or approving a document. DocuSign Inc., United States of America, provides the technical platform. For respective data processing, please refer to the privacy statement from DocuSign Inc. available on the DocuSign Website. The Privacy Statement at hand informs about the personal data processed by Bayer AG as part of electronically signing or approving a document.

The purpose for which we collect and process your personal data is the handling of electronic signatures. This includes signing and approving of documents as well as legally required retention and archiving of signed documents. The legal bases for this processing are Art. 6(1)(b) and (c) General Data Protection Regulation.

The personal data, which we process, are identifying information like your name, e-mail address and contact details, and document management and signature related information like date of signature, history of document-related actions (e.g. review, sign and IP address). Furthermore, the electronically signed documents may contain personal data of any type that is not directly related to the electronic signature process.

Access to your personal data will be given to our departments, which are involved in processing of electronic signatures. This may involve departments from other Bayer affiliates within and beyond Europe. Your personal data may also be provided to service contractors supporting our electronic signature processes. Such service contractors are carefully selected and regularly monitored by us. They will only process personal data in accordance with our instructions and on basis of appropriate data processing agreements.

Your personal data may be transferred to and processed in a country outside the European Economic Area for which the European Commission has not decided that it ensures an adequate level of data protection. In such cases, we will set up appropriate protection measures as required by GDPR. For example, we generally will apply the so-called “standard data protection clauses” adopted by the European Commission. You can obtain a copy from us on request. Alternative protection measures may be implemented as well.

Your personal data will be retained and archived according to legally required retention and archiving periods applicable to business related files. Your personal data will then be deleted if there are no other legal reasons to further processing.

You have the right to request information from us about your personal data, access to and rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing concerning your personal data or to object to processing as well as the right to data portability. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the data protection supervisory authority.

For any questions, you may have with respect to data privacy, please contact digitalsignature@bayer.com.
